

Sean Casten www.castenforcongress.com

For nearly two decades, Sean worked as a climate scientist and clean energy entrepreneur proving you can lower energy costs, create jobs, and reduce emissions at the same time. Now, as a Member of Congress serving on the Select Committee on the Climate Crisis, Sean uses his real-world experience to pass legislation to reduce the federal government's carbon footprint, expand access to electric vehicles, and invest in renewable technology. In addition to his climate work, Sean has voted to lower costs for families like prescription drugs and child care costs, introduced legislation to address the gun violence epidemic, fought to protect a woman's right to choose, and brought home millions of dollars for his district. He's proud of what we've accomplished and looks forward to continuing to serve the people of the 6th District.
